GENERAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNMENT.

FIRST, to provide suitable rooms, centrally located. SECOND, to provide and keep in said rooms such books, periodicals, and newspapers as will, in their judgment, promote the object of the Society. THIRD, to make such arrangements for social religious exercises as they shall deem practicable. FOURTH, to induce the members of the Society to connect themselves with some of the religious societies in the vicinity, according, always, to their denominational preferences, and especially to seek out and impart information and render aid, assistance, and encouragement to those who come as strangers to the city, striving to guard them against temptation, to surround them with Christian influences, and to interest them in the cultivation of a religious life.

These are the tasks imposed upon the Board of Directors by the Constitution. No special difficulty is met in carrying out the first three tasks, but the fourth presents a problem difficult and perplexing. The removal of the old-time population, reasonably unified in its religious belief, from the neighborhood which the Union naturally serves, the advent of the present population, made up of all races and creeds, cosmopolitan in every sense of the word, presents a problem, moral, ethical, and religious, which can be solved only by the broadest and most humanizing co-operation of church, society, and individual. And for this co-operation we make a most earnest appeal.

The Union stands for many things, but most of all we wish it to stand for a home,—a place where young men may find pleasant companionship, instruction, entertainment, a spirit of genial comradeship and mutual helpfulness.

The young man who comes a stranger to the city finds always a cordial welcome. We help him to secure a suitable lodging place, direct him to a church, if he desires to connect himself with one, and through an employment department assist him in obtaining a business position. If he is just starting out, a special Advisory Board of prominent business men may be consulted to aid him in choosing a vocation. Our Library furnishes him with literature, and our Gymnasium affords recreation and assists in his physical development. If he wishes to continue certain studies or take up new subjects, our evening classes furnish him an opportunity. Several new features introduced during the past year have proved very successful. A dancing class has brought young people together, under supervision of interested matrons, and has given them delightful evenings of sociability and instruction. Informal afternoon receptions by President and Mrs. Locke on the third Sundays of each month during the winter have been of assistance in developing more intimate social intercourse. A course in Civics and Economics, under the direction of well-known Harvard educators, has proved of great value in leading young men to the discussion of topics of the day. One of the most popular evening classes, Business Methods and Salesmanship, has proved of such interest that a Salesmanship Club has been formed to carry forward the helpfulness of the course. The CLUBS AND COMMITTEES. Orchestral Club, the Wampanoags, the Walking Club, the Publicity Committee, are among these newer activities, and will receive special mention in the detailed reports of the several committees.

During the year, four small estates owned by the Union, in the rear of the original building, have been cleared of the old buildings, and a very simple, two-story addition, extending across Lowell Court and through to LaGrange Street, has been erected, providing improved accommodations for bathing, additional locker and dressing rooms, as well as facilities for pool, billiards, bowling, and hand ball.

Those within and without the institution interested in the carrying out of special forms of social service always find hearty co-operation. Committees visit the sick or assist the needy, and the Country Week, Rides for Invalids, and the Children's Christmas and New Year's Festival are now regularly established departments.

Upheld by generous gifts and bequests, the Union is always ready to help the young man. By the payment of a small fee he may have at his disposal a chance to make himself better, broader, and happier, an opportunity to advance the world's work and his own well-being. The advice and assistance of experienced men are always available, of men who want to help. The Union opens wide its hospitable doors,—glad to welcome the young man, glad to help him in all his difficulties, glad to give him an opportunity to help himself.

The title to the Union Building and all other real estate is held by this Board of Trustees, and to it as received are turned over all bequests

The value to the institution of this assurance of certain and continuing financial support is fully appreciated by all those charged with its administration, and the Trustees are prompted to call particular attention to this opportunity for a permanent contribution to the development of young men, a work which has been carried on so successfully for many years by the Union.

REPORTS OF THE COMMITTEES OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNMENT.

FINANCE.

The continued interest of good friends, who so generously respond to our invitation to assist by contribution to the work of the Union, is
THANK YOU. cordially appreciated, and the Committee desires thus publicly to record a most hearty "Thank you."

The peculiar need in these times for the type of work for which the Union stands surely justifies the renewal of a strong and urgent appeal for means to carry on and to enlarge our activities.

Naturally, we must depend mainly upon the large contributions of business men, firms and corporations, but it is particularly hoped that the SHARE IN SUPPORT. younger men will do their share in supporting this enterprise so distinctly planned to promote their own welfare and enjoyment. Let the clerk, the book-keeper, the salesman, give, according to his means, for the general good, paying for his own membership and that of a comrade or two, and, above all, putting something of himself into the gift by taking a live interest in our affairs and "lending a hand" to push them along.

SUSTAINING MEMBERSHIP. The Sustaining Membership, the annual fee for which is $10, and which entitles the holder to the privileges of Gymnasium as well as general membership, furnishes opportunity for this combined contribution of money and self.

Donations should be sent to Frank L. Locke, President, Boston Young Men's Christian Union, 48 Boylston Street, for which prompt acknowledgment will be made.

The financial statement by the Treasurer, Edward A. Church, is presented herewith.

A CLASS-ROOM.

LECTURES, CLASSES, AND ENTERTAINMENTS.

If one stops for a moment and tries to realize just what the duties of this Committee include, the value of its work and influence among young men is brought vividly to mind.

Lectures, collectively and singly, spread over such a wide area of knowledge that it requires acute discrimination to select such as are best
LECTURES. suited to the purpose of furnishing young men instruction and entertainment in such popular form as will be attractive and readily assimilated,—these your Committee has tried to provide.

The evening classes appeal to an ever-increasing multitude of people who are desirous of supplementing their education with studies that are CLASSES. practical and that will enable them to advance in the world, socially or financially. While our main object is to assist young men, we do open the class-rooms to young women in classes where the registration is not entirely taken up by young men.

As has been the experience in past years, the classes that appeal most to our members are those which increase business efficiency, making a man more valuable to his employer and ultimately increasing his financial prospects. As an example of this, note the large number who attended the course in Business Methods and Salesmanship,—the season's most successful course in registration and continuance of interest.

A report in detail from the Superintendent of Classes follows.

DEMONSTRATION OF SELLING BY JORDAN MARSH COMPANY.

The classes offered covered a wide range of commercial, industrial, and cultural subjects.

Individual instruction and close attention to each student's needs, wherever possible, continued to be a prominent feature in our work.

Co-operation is the keynote of the Union's plan for assisting ambitious young men to better their educational equipment and increase their earning capacity.

This institution stands ready to help any group of members having a common interest, dividing with them the cost of instruction, the Union providing class-room, light, heat, and expenses of general administration. In some subjects especially important, but where registration has been small, the institution has paid a goodly proportion of the instructor's salary. In general, however, the registration fees are placed at a figure to cover the salaries.

The policy of co-operation has been brought forward even more strongly this season than heretofore, the most prominent example being the course in Business Methods and Salesmanship.

The novel plan adopted for the conduct of this course was originated by Mr. Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr., under whose direction it was arranged and to whose generous contribution of time and energy, given entirely without compensation, its success was largely due.

The recorded registration of this class was 356, but, owing to the fact that provision was made for attendance at single demonstrations by those who did not care to attend all, it is fair to say that upwards of 400 participated in the course.

BUSINESS METHODS AND SALESMANSHIP.

DEMONSTRATION OF SELLING BY ATLAS SHOE COMPANY.

On the opening evening a series of ten-minute talks on the Principles of Business Doing and Salesmanship was given by the following well-known business men and educators: Mr. Walter A. Hawkins, Superintendent of the Jordan Marsh Company; Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. John R. Ainsley, head of the firm of John R. Ainsley & Company; Dr. Charles H. Prosser, Deputy Commissioner of Education for Massachusetts; Mr. Fred H. Tucker, member of the firm of Farley, Harvey & Company; Mr. E. F. Cullen, Manager of the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company; Mr. Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr., Director of the course; and Colonel Frank L. Locke, President of the Union. The course closed with a very practical lecture on the "Psychology of Approach," by Professor Colin A. Scott.

Eight actual demonstrations of selling and business management were given by the following firms:

DEMONSTRATIONS OF SELLING. The Jordan Marsh Company, the Eastern Talking Machine

Company, the Paine Furniture Company, the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company, the Thorp & Martin Company, the Atlas Shoe Company, The W. S. Quinby Company, and the Library Bureau.

Incidental to these programmes there were introduced the following special features: insurance solicitation, by Mr. John A. Voodry, life insurance expert; the sale of a typewriter, by Henry J. Clarke, Jr., of the Remington Typewriter Company; the sale of a dictionary, by Mr. John Quincy Adams, head of the firm of J. Q. Adams & Company. Over 150 business men and prominent educators took an active part in the various programmes. After each special presentation, opportunity was given for questions and discussion by members of the class.

Advantage was taken of the stage of The Union Hall and its complete equipment of scenery, making possible a very realistic reproduction of office, salesroom, or store. No details were lacking in the presentation of a perfect picture of actual business doing, many of the firms supplying their own complete office equipment of furniture, as well as large quantities of valuable goods. In every instance the demonstrations have been under the immediate charge of members of the firms or sales managers, and the programmes have been carried out by regular salesmen, in many cases assisted by actual customers.

The thanks of the Union, and particularly of the young men and women who attended the course, are due these business men for their willingness to give so generously of time and thought to this novel educational effort.

As a natural outcome of the course, the Boston Young Men's Christian Union Salesmanship Club, of about one hundred members, has been formed for the purpose of continuing the demonstrations and discussions in regular weekly meetings.

A class in dancing and deportment was this year instituted, in co-operation with the Massachusetts Association of Women Workers' Clubs. A special committee, consisting of Mrs. James J. Storrow, Miss Edith M. Howes, and Mr. Horace Morison, of our Board of Government, was appointed to arrange and supervise the work of this class.

STAGE SETTINGS FOR DEMONSTRATIONS BY LOOSE-WILES BISCUIT COMPANY.

The course comprised twenty lessons, given in two terms of ten lessons each. Admission to the class was, for the young women, by DANCING AND DEPARTMENT. invitation through committees of the Association of Women Workers' Clubs, and for the young men through a special committee of the Union members.

The fee for the course was $4, or $2 for a half-term.

In addition to the usual instruction in deportment and social dancing, a special feature was made of instruction in folk dancing, this latter proving of particular interest.

Instruction was under the supervision of Mrs. Storrow. Miss Mabel G. Schellinger was in immediate charge as the regular teacher, and her skill and earnest interest in the class were much appreciated. Mrs. G. H. Shaw ably assisted as pianist.

The heartiest thanks of the Union and of the members of the class are due the numerous friends who have shown such keen interest in this new feature, and particularly the women who have assisted as matrons and as helpers on the various committees.

Mention should be made of the contribution to the work of the class by Miss Grace R. Thurston, who has been a constant attendant and has assisted as executive secretary of the Committee of Members, in charge of the details of the conduct of the class. The class had also the general oversight and very cordial interest of Professor Hebbert, our Physical Director.

The closing of each term was celebrated as a special occasion with light refreshments and extra features, and on several evenings exhibitions of gymnastic dancing were given by members of Professor Hebbert's Gymnasium classes.

At the Chamber of Commerce Industrial and Educational Exposition in the Mechanics' Building, the Union's Evening Classes were well represented by a working exhibit of the Lettering and Sign Painting Class. Every evening, students were present to demonstrate the work under the direction of Mr. Frank DeSilva, whose interest and loyalty to the traditions of the Union contributed in no small measure to the well-merited success of the exhibit.

A departure from the plan of former seasons was the bi-weekly meeting, for the first half of the course, of the Shorthand and Penmanship Classes, which permitted more intensive class-room drill.

The Shorthand Class has arranged for a post-season course of ten lessons.

The Freehand Drawing Course was extended to fifty lessons of two evenings a week. The more extensive use of life models added much to the interest. A public exhibition of the work done in this class and the Sign Painting Class will be held on April 5.

Members of the classes in Elocution and Acting on April 25 will assist the Orchestral Club in a public concert.

In the Electricity Class the addition to its equipment of an electrical projection lantern aided the instructor in increasing the efficiency of the work.

The Business Law Class had one lecture open to the public, and this was well patronized.

DEBATING CLUB. The Debating Club participated in several public debates with other clubs, and reflected much credit on the quality of the training given.

The season has been a satisfactory one from the standpoint of attendance. The quality of the work attested to the serious-mindedness and determination to gain knowledge on the part of the young men we aim to serve.

The Union's Classes fill a demand for a kind of instruction given by no other institution in the city at a tuition rate that is nominal.

HARRISON M. DUFFILL,
Superintendent of Classes.

Recreation and entertainment are a necessity, and never more so than in these days of nerve-racking and brain-fagging business. No one can work continually without paying the penalty. For those who could find time for entertainment and relaxation a course was provided of varying interest, including musical, dramatic, and high-class vaudeville. Entertaining travel talks were given by men who had personally visited the countries described and had taken with their own cameras snap-shot pictures of interesting scenes and incidents.

The Entertainment Course for 1911-12 consisted of the following:—

1911.

- April 5. Illustrated Lecture. A. T. Kempton, of Lunenburg, Mass. "Hunting and Fishing in the Land of Evangeline."
- April 19. Illustrated Lecture. Charles H. Johnson, of Quincy, Mass. "Historic Quincy, Past and Present."
- April 26. "The Prospectors." An original musical comedy by the young men of Hale House.

One of the clubs that is alive and doing good work is the Camera Club, composed of young men interested in photography. Exhibitions were given during the year, both in the Club Room and in the main Reception Room. Social gatherings, to many of which ladies were invited, were held in the Club Room from time to time. At other meetings, exhibitions of lantern slides, demonstrations, and informal talks on photographic matters were given.

The Union Orchestral Club is another active organization. Rehearsals have been held every Saturday evening during the season under the leadership of Rudolph Nettle, and the Club is now ready to play in public. Its first appearance this season was on March 17, when an attractive musical programme was rendered for one of the informal Sunday afternoon receptions of President and Mrs. Locke.

CAMERA CLUB.

Mention should be made of the Salesmanship Club, formed for the most part of members who have attended the very successful course in Business Methods and Salesmanship, to which reference is made at length in the report of the Superintendent of Classes. This Club plans to hold weekly meetings for demonstrations and discussions of problems in Business Conduct and Salesmanship. With a membership of about one hundred and an enthusiastic group of officers and committees, its outlook is promising.

THE LIBRARY.

In a broad spirit of hospitality and friendliness the Library has during the past three hundred and sixty-six days thrown open its doors from early morning until late at night to young men from all walks of life.

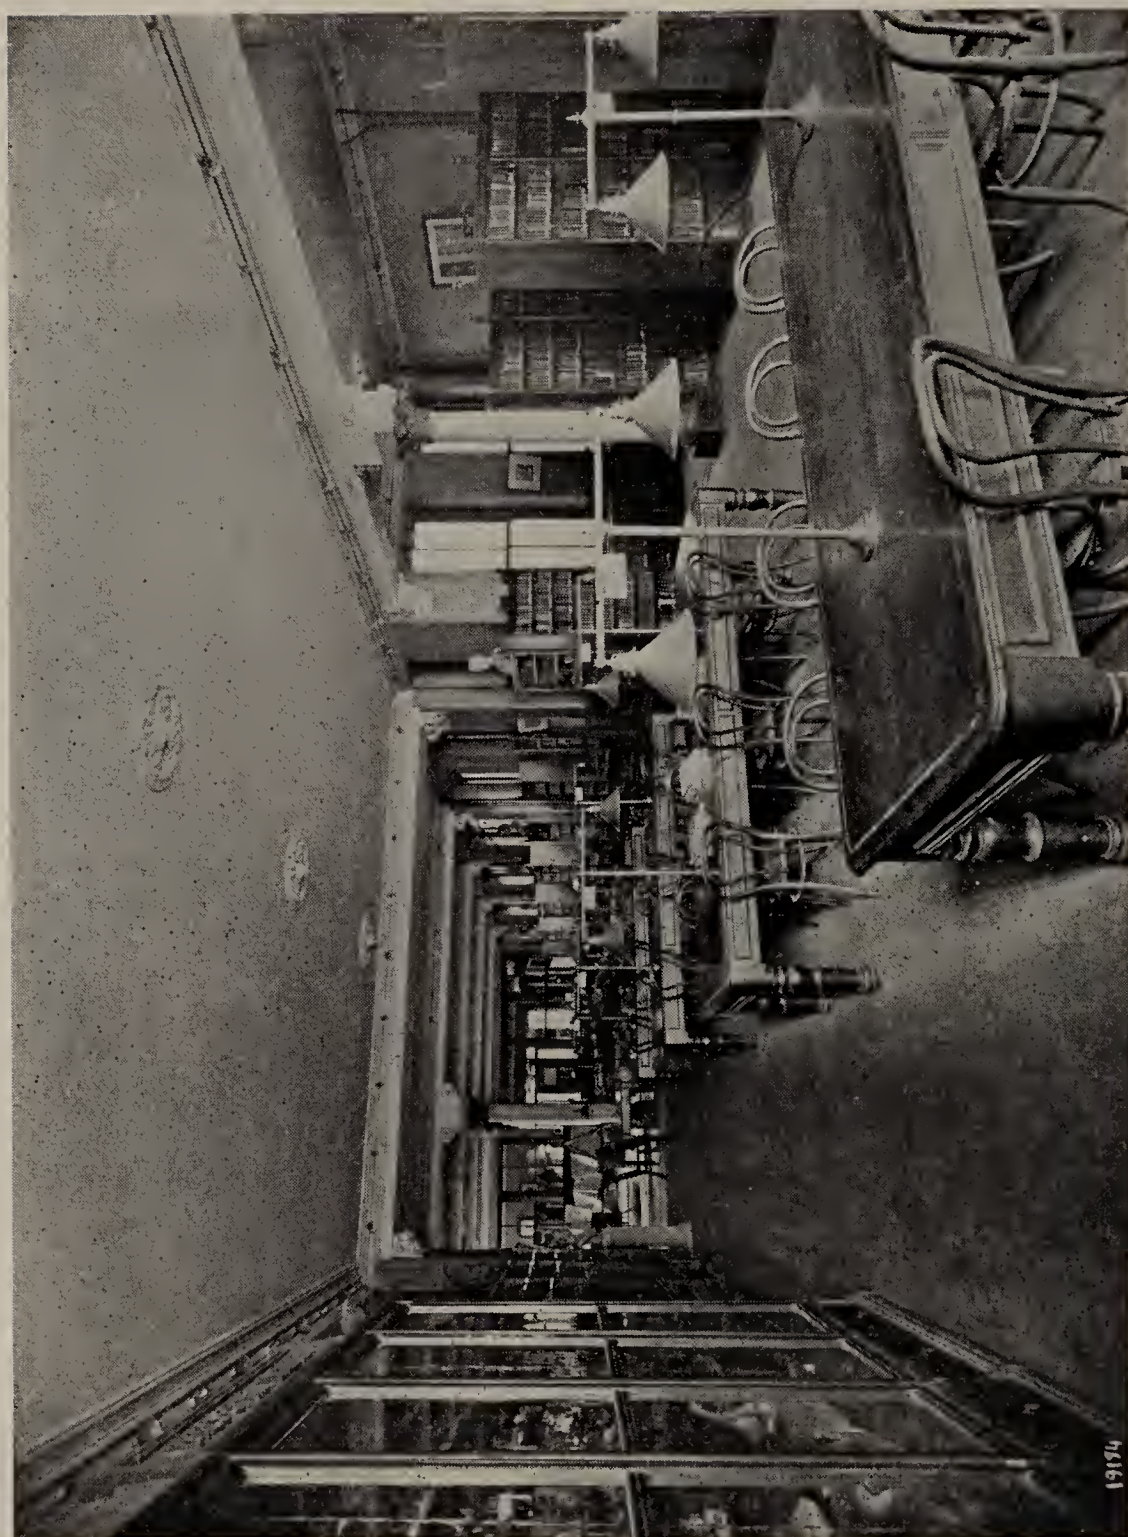

Some idea of the work accomplished is here indicated by a few statistics from the Librarian, Richard Ray, Jr.:—

Number of volumes at the beginning of the year, April
1, 1911 . . . . .	18,224
Added by gift . . . . .	68
Added by purchase . . . . .	426
Missing volumes returned . . . . .	87
	581
	18,805
Missing and withdrawn . . . . .	331
Number of volumes in Library at present time . . . .	18,474
Number of volumes rebound . . . . .	417
Volumes worn out and replaced . . . . .	70
Issued for home reading . . . . .	15,083
Charged (April 1, 1912) as out . . . . .	365
Number of volumes in the Study . . . . .	283

The Reading Room, which is also the Library Room, has upon its tables the principal magazines and periodicals. We receive regularly twenty-three dailies, fifty-three weeklies, fifty-seven monthlies, two semi-monthlies, and seven quarterlies.

Seven of the monthly magazines were placed in temporary binders and issued for home reading.

The circulation of these for the year was as follows: "Century," 198; "Harper's," 256; "Scribner's," 189; "Outing," 126; "Atlantic," 52; "World's Work," 90; and "System," 17.

LIBRARY.

The central location of our building enables many young men from the business district to spend a portion of their noon hour in the Reading Room.

THE NOON HOUR. Not only magazines and periodicals are read at this time, but also many books are used of which no account is kept. It is a well-known fact, too, that a large number of the books circulated for home reading are read by more than the one person taking them.

“The work which a library does,” says a leading librarian, “cannot be shown in statistics. The knowledge which the young machinist gets out of a library book may be of great financial benefit to him in the course of his life. The benefit which the young student gets from application to books is broadening and inspiring on the intellectual side, and is shown in his mature life in a strong and commanding professional or business career.”

Your Committee fully realizes the wide influence which our own Library may have over the life of a young man. The elevating and enriching influence of great books cannot be overestimated. The use of them cannot help but broaden his outlook, increase his store of knowledge, and add to his pleasure.

“Great books not only teach a man to respect other nations and ages,—they do what is better: they help him to know men. To the efficient man nothing else is quite so important as this.”

In these days of efficiency and publicity it is not enough to add new volumes to the Library and assign PUBLICITY. them to their proper places on the shelves. They must be brought to the attention of the reader. In addition to the card catalogue, which has been kept up to date, lists of new additions have been posted regularly in the Library and frequently on the Bulletin Board in the Reception Room.

Our publication, "The Union Bulletin," has given from time to time announcements of the latest additions, as well as special lists of books on current topics of the day.

Small collections of books on Travel, Biography, History, Charles Dickens, etc., have been brought together, and kept in a conspicuous place for a week at a time. Each of these methods helps to bring to the attention of our readers the resources of the Library and aids in circulating books which are of real service.

ROOMS.

Reports of this Committee for several years have drawn attention to the need of enlarged and improved facilities for meeting the constantly changing require-

IMPROVED FACILITIES.      ments of the various branches of the work, as well as for the undertaking of important new lines of effort. It is fully realized that complete satisfaction of these requirements can only be obtained by the erection of a new building, to the accomplishment of which in the near future our Board of Government and the Trustees confidently look forward. The pressure for larger accommodations and better facilities for carrying on the work has been so urgent that the provision at once of at least temporary relief has seemed imperative. To this end, during the last year four small estates in the rear of the main building, heretofore occupied only in small part for purposes of the Union, have been improved. The old dwellings have been removed from these estates, and a two-story addition of simplest construction, extending from the main building across Lowell Court and through to La Grange Street, has been erected.

This extension has provided enlarged and additional accommodations for the Gymnasium, including a special court for hand-ball and squash, and has furnished also space for a modern equipment of four bowling alleys, and a well-arranged room for games, billiards, pool, etc.

Quite extensive general repairs have also been made, notably in the Gymnasium, where the increased accommodations in the addition make possible the removal in large part from the main building of bathing and locker facilities, furnishing much-needed space for some of the special gymnastic work.

Provision for games in the extension has made possible the removal of pool tables and other GAMES. games from the front room on the main floor and the return of this room to its former use as a Reception Room.

While there have been no elaborate changes made, the usual work of minor repairs and renovation has been carried on as occasion required, and every attempt has been made to give the rooms the appearance of a cosy, attractive home. Our building, near the busy corner of Tremont and Boylston Streets, overlooking the Common, is within easy walking distance of the large railroad stations. It is between the Tremont Street Subway and the Washington Street Tunnel and directly on the line of cross-town traffic,—a location at once convenient to the business district and to all suburban connections. Thus our activities are right at the door of the young man in his place of business and also peculiarly accessible to his home or lodgings, even though in the more remote districts of Greater Boston.

The Committee is much pleased to record the steady increase of the Union activities. On several occasions it has been much puzzled to find rooms enough to provide for all the different groups applying for special meeting-places. The Union Hall has been particularly popular, not only on account of the large number of

THE UNION our own entertainments and meetings,
HALL. but also because of the demand by outside organizations. Our central location and the complete equipment of the Hall as regards scenery and dressing-rooms make it especially desirable for a large variety of entertainments and social gatherings.

The accompanying sketch plans show the arrangement of the various rooms and the purposes for which they are used.

No changes have been made in the roll of employees, except in the case of some of the minor positions of desk assistants and janitors. The Committee has pleasure in recording its appreciation of the continued faithful service of the employees, and has been particularly gratified to receive from members repeated expressions of recognition and commendation of this service.

The following efficient corps of ushers has assisted in connection with the various lectures and entertainments:—

HERBERT W. MARSHALL.

ARTHUR F. HOPKINS.

FRED C. CHOATE.

MARK L. READ.

CLARENCE E. DAVIS.

EDWARD W. HELDT.

JAMES J. HURLEY.

There has been received during the year, and hung in the rooms, an oil painting of John H. Coppenhagen, a late Life Member of the Union, a gift from the estate of Mrs. M. C. Coppenhagen Wilson.

MEMBERS.

With the improvements which have been made during the past year in the Gymnasium and elsewhere

INTEREST OF THE MEMBERS. and the prospect that these will be followed by still greater advantages to be gained from a more extensive and more modern building in the future, the interest of the members in the Union, its activities, its purposes, and its aims, should be, as it undoubtedly has been, greatly enhanced. The members seem to be taking hold with great zest of the idea that the Union demands something from them in co-operation with those who are in charge of the affairs of the society to make the institution what it ought to be. Several clubs and committees have been formed among the members for this purpose, and these men have done splendid work for the general good.

We should, however, not be contented with what we have done, but keep up the good work by forming other organizations and clubs whose aim it will be not only to benefit those associated therein, but also to help build up the Union in all its branches. Any such associations will receive the hearty support of all interested in the Union.

The Committee on Members desires especially to call attention to the work of the Publicity Committee,

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE. which was formed during the past year, and to thank the members of that Committee for the work they have done in stimulating interest in the membership and in bringing together for social intercourse so many of the members who otherwise might not have been reached. We wish this Committee, as well as all other committees and clubs of the Union, the best of success and prosperity in their respective lines.

In this connection we should like to say a word in favor of the membership known as the Sustaining Membership. This membership is intended to give those who so desire an opportunity to express in a tangible form by an annual subscription their belief in the Union and their gratitude for the benefits which they have received therefrom or their loyalty and devotion to the institution and the things for which it stands. It would seem that this sentiment ought especially to appeal, and undoubtedly will appeal when it is brought to their attention, to thousands of men who in their younger days were members of the Union and owe, in part at least, their success in life to the fact that they were enabled to enjoy the benefits

WHOLESOME of the wholesome companion-
COMPANIONSHIP. ship and the advantages of the Library, of the Gymnasium, and of the Class-room which the Union so freely and willingly furnished them. As in many of our colleges it is the custom for classes on the anniversary of their graduation to contribute a substantial sum of money to the college as a token of their love and gratitude to her for their education, so it would seem that the Boston Young Men's Christian Union might properly ask from us the same willingness to aid in its support. We hope that the business men of Boston and its vicinity will appreciate this opportunity.

Our total membership on March 31, 1912, is 5,363.
 1,602 new members have joined during the year.
 1,733 have renewed membership.

One subscription member has joined, and six have renewed their subscriptions.

The present number of life members is 2,021.

We regret to announce the death of the following Life Members:—

SOCIAL SERVICE.

The Christian Union, in all its activities and principles, stands for "Social Service," steadfastly working for the betterment of social conditions and co-operating, so far as may be, with all honest efforts in this direction.

While, therefore, there is no branch of our work which has not this end in view, we feel that we may continue to "point with pride" to some of the Union's special enterprises, which have again made a successful record under the judicious and effective management of Miss Elise S. Johnson, the Secretary and Director of these undertakings.

The Country Week leads the list, and a special report of its thirty-seventh season may be had on application.

COUNTRY WEEK.

This is one of those double-acting agencies which "blesseth him that gives and him that takes," and there is hardly any humane ministry of the time more immediate and beautiful in its service than this. It has long ago proved its value, and needs neither apology nor explanation.

Here is a summary of the work of 1911:—

Number of children given vacations . . . . .	1,756
Number of adults given vacations . . . . .	206
Number advised and assisted . . . . .	1,051

and here is the list of our faithful and generous fellow-workers in the service of the Country Week:—

Miss MABEL WILBUR.	Mrs. WILLIAM A. L. BAZELEY.
Mrs. M. P. WHITE.	Miss MARGARET N. BALDWIN.
Miss MARION I. BULLARD.	ROBERT A. WOODS.
Miss MARION D. BASSETT.	Miss CLARA M. BULLARD.
WILLIAM HOWELL REED, Jr.	Miss KATE L. HUTCHINS.
Miss ALICE F. POOR.	Miss ELIZABETH E. FREEMAN.
Miss EDNA A. SMITH.	Miss GENEVIEVE ROBINSON.

The very title, “Rides for Invalids,” explains the work. For many years the Union has provided these rides for those in especial need of them, the sick, the weary, the children. “A service of love for those who suffer,” and it is a continuous service, for, while most of it is rendered in summer time, there are demands at all seasons of the year.

The statistics for last year are as follows:—

Number of persons given carriage drives . . . . .	930
Number of steamer tickets distributed . . . . .	1,319
Number of electric car tickets distributed . . . . .	17,100

The Christmas and New Year’s Festival has become a permanent feature in the Union’s calendar, and its thirty-ninth celebration occurred on December 30, in The Union Hall.

Over six hundred children were present, and perhaps a hundred more shared in the benefits.

At two o’clock on that pleasant Saturday afternoon President Locke cordially welcomed the little guests of the Union, and was followed by Miss Margaret W. Sayward, who told a fairy tale to the children most charmingly.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S FESTIVAL.

Then came the play, "Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp," given most delightfully and artistically by nine young ladies from the Sewing Circle League, and received with appreciation and enthusiasm by the children.

Next followed the displaying of the Christmas tree with all its alluring fruitage. The Santa Claus was our Vice-President, Mr. George S. Baldwin, and many of the little ones accepted him as "the real thing."

Cake and ice-cream were liberally served, and every child, on departing, received a generous package of gifts selected for individual needs.

The preparations for this festival occupied many persons for many days, and it is a pleasure here to record their names.

The Employment Bureau has again abundantly proved its value. Under the trained direction of Mr. Herbert C. Bronsdon, it has done excellent work, rendering its systematic service without charge to either employer or employee. In vocational problems, valuable assistance has been given by the following:—

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

ADVISORY BOARD.

GEORGE HUTCHINSON, of Clark-Hutchinson Company.
 JEROME JONES, of Jones, McDuffee & Stratton.
 CARL DREYFUS, of Jacob Dreyfus & Sons.
 CHARLES T. GALLAGHER, Attorney-at-law.
 WALTER A. HAWKINS, of Jordan Marsh Company.
 E. ELMER FOYE, of Old Colony Trust Company.
 GEORGE H. ELLIS, of Geo. H. Ellis Co.

Applications for employment were received from 914 men and boys, whose ages ranged from thirteen to sixty-five years, as follows:—

AGES . . . . .	13-16	17-20	21-25	26-30	31-40	41-50	51-65
APPLICATIONS .	178	280	189	89	102	57	29

Of these, 614 were sent to places in response to 512 applications from employers, and 284 were employed.

Applications from employers have been principally for book-keepers, office and errand boys, clerks, in bank, office, and store, draughtsmen, elevator operators, janitors, mechanics, porters, salesmen, shippers, stenographers, teamsters, workers in skilled trades, while occasional inquiries have been received for persons to fill positions in thirty or more miscellaneous occupations.

A few cases will show the scope of this department's work: A Mechanic Arts High School boy, seeking advice as to choice of a vocation, was found to be much interested in architectural work, but not a very good student. He got along, but studies came hard to him, while with a pencil he was exceptionally skilful. A place was found for him as an office boy with an architect, who after six months, in response to an inquiry, reports as follows:—

“With the enclosed report as to-----I send $1.00 which might have been charged me if-----had come in through some other Agency.

“If all your boys make as good a showing in six months' time, you are to be congratulated. With best wishes for continued success in your good work, believe me,

Yours sincerely.”

A young man applying for a position in a broker's office indicated, on being questioned, that his reason for wishing to enter such an office was the short hours and good salary expected. Information was given the young man about various lines of business, and he was advised to talk the matter over with his mother. After a conference with the mother, who called to express appreciation of the advice given her son, the young man was located within a few days with a good mercantile house.

LOOKING FOR A JOB.

A young Englishman, an electrician by trade, applying immediately upon arrival in Boston, was placed with an Electric Light Company. At the end of six months both the Company's report and his are most satisfactory.

A study of the problems presented from time to time serves to emphasize the importance of more attention

CHOICE OF VOCATION. by the young man starting in life to the selection of a vocation, and a clearer definition by employers of their requirements and of the rewards which may reasonably be expected to follow faithful service in their various lines of business. While realizing the importance of this selection, as indicated by the motto of the department, "The right man in the right place," it is our constant endeavor to emphasize the thought that by conscientious attention to the task at hand, by determined application and willingness to work, reasonable success may be attained in whatever line the young man may find it necessary to begin, and that attention to these important points will ultimately lead him to that particular vocation for which he is best fitted.

Mr. Bronsdon has also done good "social service" in receiving and distributing clothing, many needy young men having thus been materially benefited in a quiet way.

BOARD AND LODGING LISTS.

The Board and Lodging Lists have continued in charge of Mr. James H. Dalton, who has kept them carefully "up to date" and made them of real use to many.

We do not forget our constant dependence upon the considerate generosity of our friends for the means to carry on these social services, but we believe the work to be worthy of such support and will constantly try to make it even more so.

EDWARD A. CHURCH, Chairman.
HORACE MORISON.
FRANK L. LOCKE.

PUBLIC WORSHIP AND RELIGIOUS STUDY.

The complex character of the Union's membership, as regards religious belief, renders the task of ministering to the important matter of Public Worship and Religious Study most difficult. The problem is still further complicated, especially so far as any Sunday Service is concerned, by the many down-town counter attractions in the shape of picture shows and concert programmes.

The Committee has the co-operation of some of the churches in its endeavor to interest young men in regular church attendance, and gladly welcomes any assistance in this direction.

CO-OPERATION OF CHURCHES.

The importance of a connection with some church is urged upon members, and aid is given in obtaining seats in the particular churches which they desire to attend.

With the co-operation of members of the faculty of Harvard University a course of twenty Sunday afternoon meetings or conferences in Civics and Economics has been given. Important social and economic problems have been considered, particularly from the ethical and moral standpoint. As far as possible, topics have been presented in logical order, so that those who attended the whole course might feel in some sense that they had received instruction similar to that given in college courses in these subjects.

CO-OPERATION OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

After presentation of the subject by the lecturer, opportunity has been afforded for questions, and in most cases this after questioning and discussion has proved quite as interesting and instructive as the lecture itself. Young men in the audience have often contributed in no small part to the illumination of the topic of the day.

President A. Lawrence Lowell, LL.B., LL.D., Dean James Hardy Ropes, D.D., Professor Francis G. Peabody, D.D., LL.D., Professor Thomas N. Carver, LL.D., and Professor Frank W. Taussig, LL.B., have served as an Advisory Committee. The course has been under the immediate direction of Robert F. Foerster, Ph.D., Instructor in Social Ethics. The other lecturers included Francis G. Peabody, D.D., LL.D., Professor of Christian Morals; Thomas N. Carver, LL.D., Professor of Political Economy; Frank W. Taussig, LL.B., Professor of Economics; Henry W. Holmes, A.M., Professor of Education; Arthur N. Dec. 24, 1911. Special Service. Music by the Union Orchestra, Rudolph Nettle, leader; Reading, "The Other Wise Man," by Irvin L. Potter; and Contralto Solos by Miss Ceita Johnson.

In connection with these Sunday meetings, President and Mrs. Locke held informal afternoon receptions for members and friends on the third Sundays of November, December, January, February, and March. INFORMAL RECEPTIONS. These gatherings have provided a pleasing opportunity for members to meet socially, to strengthen friendships already formed and to make new ones. Some of the Directors with their wives have been present each afternoon, and also, as special guests, clergymen, educators, friends interested in social service, men and women glad of an opportunity to meet and to know better our members and their young men and young women friends. Light refreshments have been served, and usually some simple musical programme helped to enliven the occasion. At the March reception the Union Orchestral Club, Mr. Rudolph Nettle, Conductor, made its first public appearance, rendering a very enjoyable programme.

Last season's Sunday afternoons' course in Everyday Problems closed too late to be included in the Annual Report, with a consideration, on the Sundays in April, of the interesting topic, "WHAT DO WE OWE?" First, "OURSELVES," presented by Rev. A. W. Littlefield, of Brookline. Second, "THE STATE," by Hon. Allen T. Treadway, President of the Massachusetts Senate. Third, "THE WORLD," by Rev. William E. Gardner, New England Missionary Secretary, Protestant Episcopal Church. Fourth, "EACH OTHER," by Rev. George L. Cady, D.D., of Dorchester. Fifth, "CHRISTIANITY," by Rev. O. P. Gifford, D.D., of Brookline.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

The Committee on Physical Culture takes great pleasure and excusable pride in submitting its report for the past year, for not only has the regular work of the department been maintained at its high level, but a fine addition to the building, devoted entirely to athletics and sports, was constructed during the season and publicly dedicated February 6, with appropriate ceremonies and exhibitions.

The Gymnasium has long been regarded as an invaluable adjunct of all institutions engaged in the uplifting and upbuilding of young men, and especially is this true at the present day when modern ideas and scientific methods prevail in the field of physical culture.

The wide-spread interest in, and enthusiasm for, physical training and sports of all kinds is one of the most gratifying and encouraging signs of the times; and the Union Gymnasium, the largest and most completely equipped in Boston, is more than ever a centre of great athletic interest.

On April 1, 1912, the membership was

GROUP OF GYMNASIUM MEMBERS, 1912.

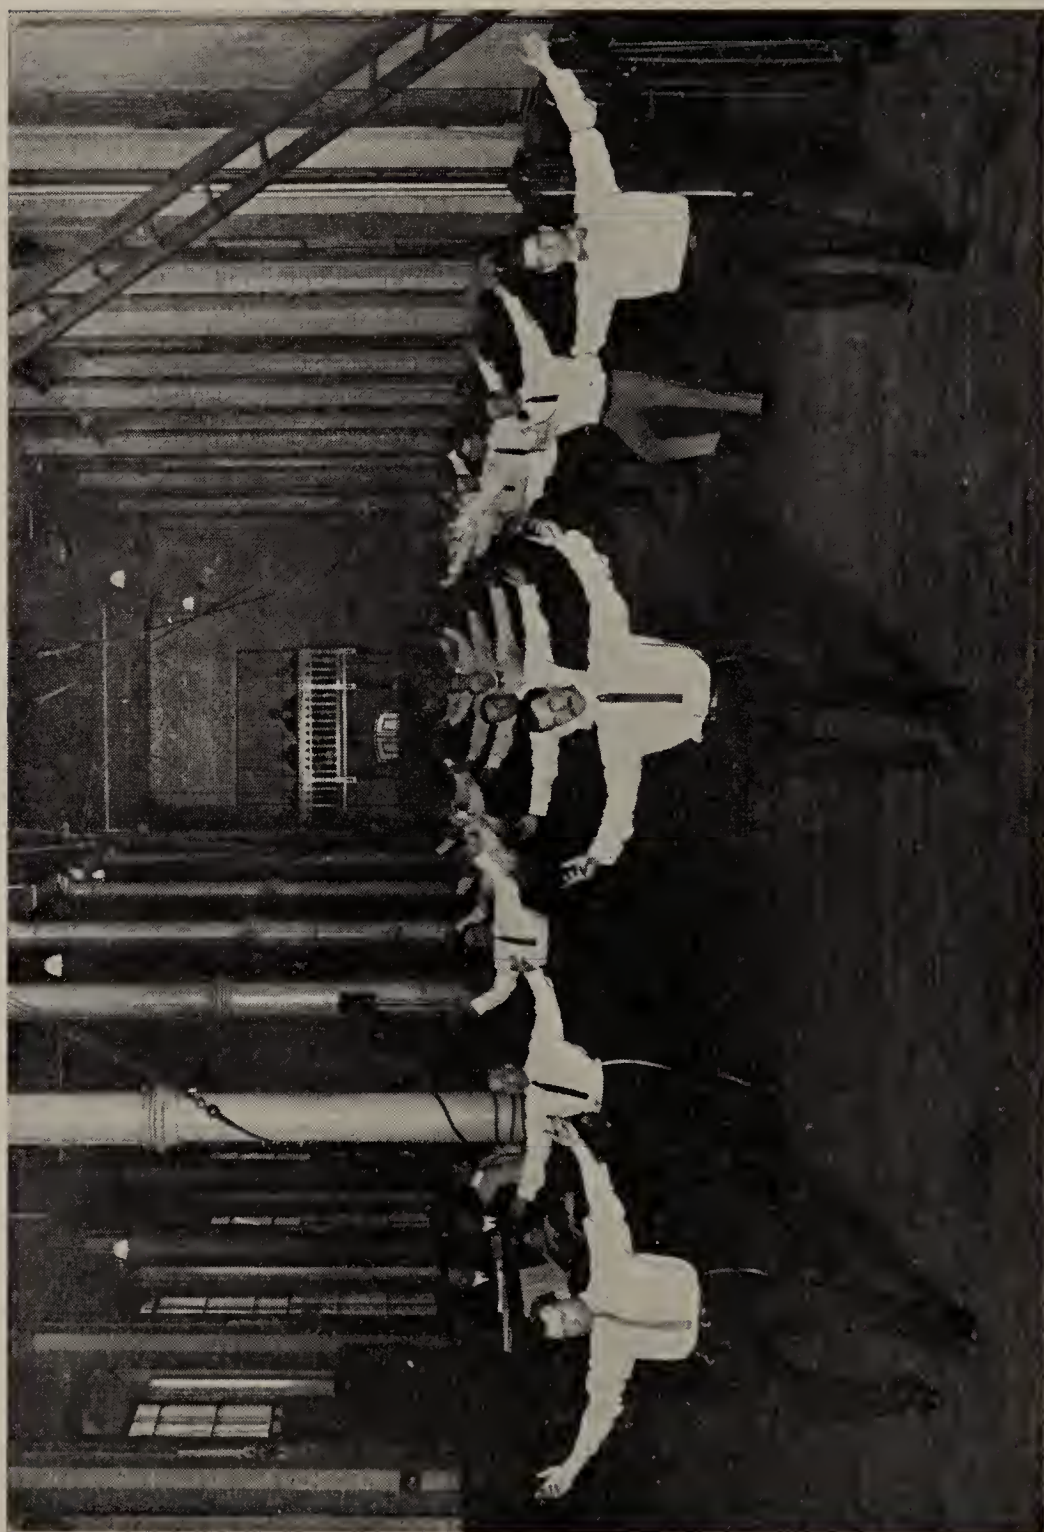

1,134,—a remarkably good showing, considering the number of gymnasiums which have been established in the Metropolitan District, each having a following of its own, and also bearing in mind the temporary inconveniences to our members occasioned by the changes in our building.

The Gymnasium has been in immediate charge of Mr. Oliver L. Hebbert, Director, and Mr. Ross

PERSONNEL. E. Browning, Assistant. They have largely contributed to the effectiveness and popularity of the general gymnasium work, and particularly of the class work, and have given personal care and instruction to such individual members as have sought their counsel.

The classes, always popular with our members of all ages, have taken on new life, often taxing the floor space to its utmost capacity. Additional afternoon classes have proved a special attraction to business and professional men, and many have availed themselves of this opportunity to improve their physical condition and counteract the brain fag of sedentary and other indoor occupations. The class work has included calisthenics, dumb bell, gymnastic dancing, Indian club, wand, high bars, parallel bars, horizontal bar, German horse, Swedish box, vaulting, tumbling, inclined and horizontal ladders, boxing and wrestling.

Gymnastic dancing, the most recent innovation in the Gymnasium, is now included in all the classes. It is a pleasing and healthful deviation from routine work, and our members are finding it to be all that is claimed for it,—a graceful, fascinating, and exhilarating exercise.

"THE SWORD DANCE."

The classes have been under the leadership of Mr. Hebbert and Mr. Browning, and in the work on the special apparatus they have had the assistance of a group of enthusiastic volunteer leaders.

Music for the class work has been in charge of Miss S. M. Gash, pianist, whose proficiency in the special requirements of this position has contributed in no small measure to the attractiveness of these drills.

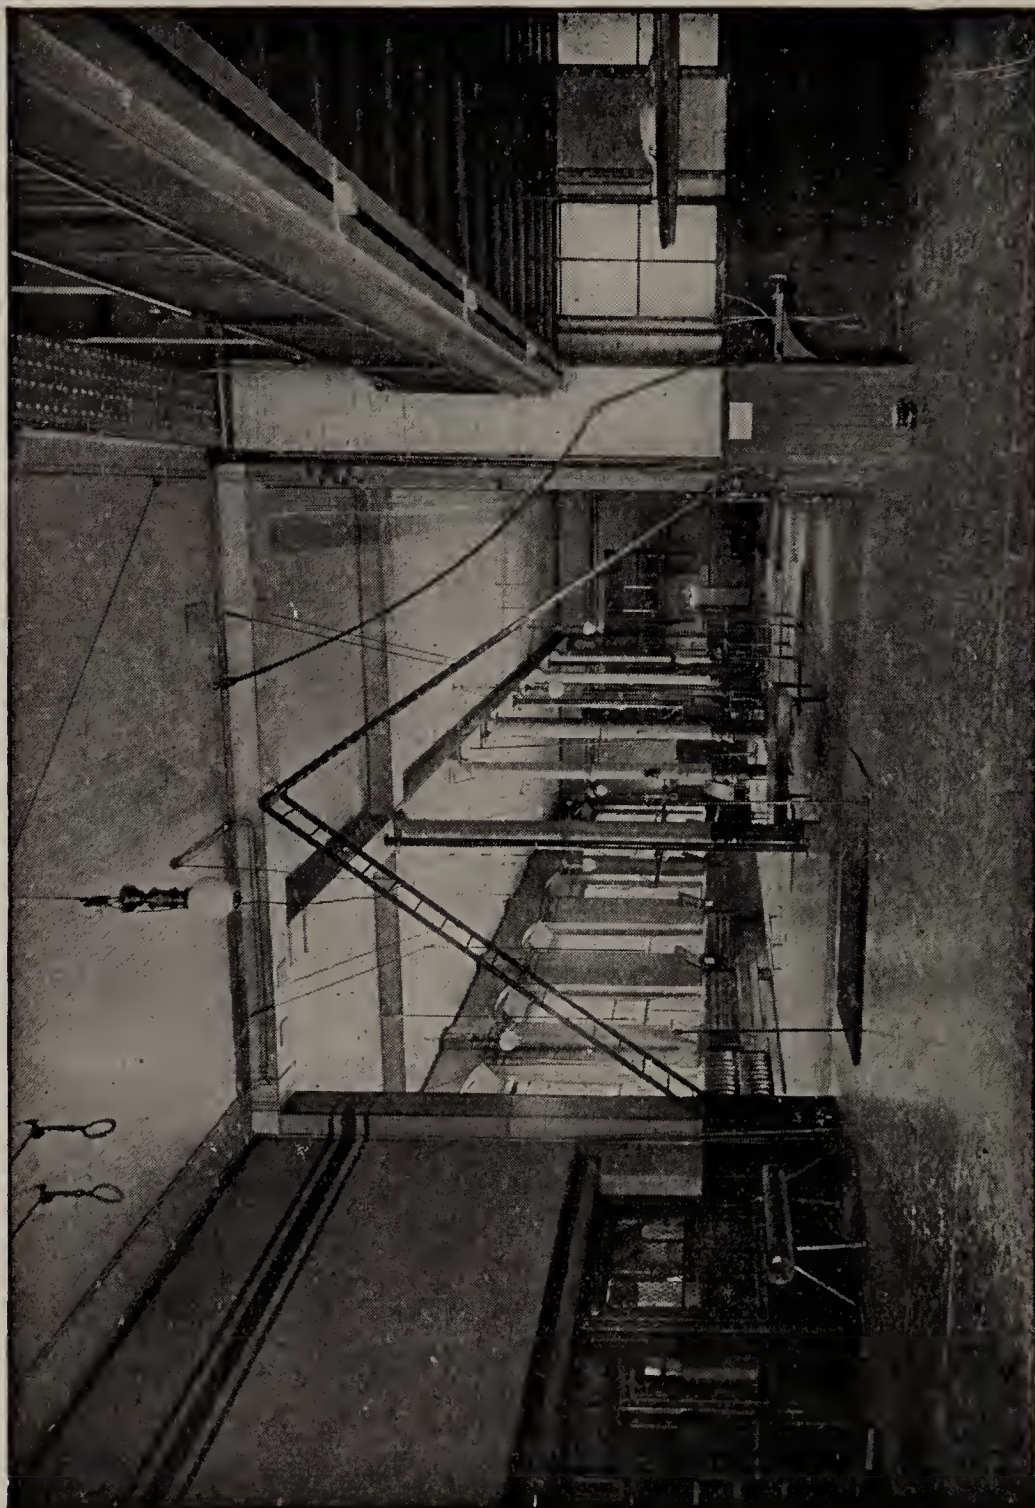

The Class for Boys on Saturday mornings, in charge BOYS. of Mr. Hebbert, affords a safe form of recreation and exercise, which parents of growing boys much appreciate.

A special class for Civil Service candidates provides instruction and training to meet the requirements of the physical examinations and strength tests of the Boston Police and Fire Departments.

The recent enlargement of the Gymnasium has been the most important event and the most notable improvement for many years. An addition extending from the main building NEW to La Grange Street, and consisting of a QUARTERS. basement and two stories, affords a long-planned opportunity to assemble in a compact and correlated way all the departments which include physical training, sports, and games.

The improvements include a bowling-room with four standard alleys; a billiard-room with combination and pool tables; a large locker-room with patent ventilated steel lockers and a lounging corner for rest and reading; a finely lighted hand-ball court; a concrete bath-room with a complete equipment, including a multiple shower; a steam-room; an electric light bath; massage-rooms, in charge of specialists; and a new office and check-room.

MAIN FLOOR OF GYMNASIUM.

The old basement locker-room has been transformed into attractive rooms for boxing, wrestling, striking-bags, and heavy dumb BOXING AND bells. The new boxing-room has WRESTLING. proved both popular and convenient, and a corps of expert instructors has created a great interest in this form of exercise.

The locker-room at the westerly end of the Gymnasium has been reconstructed, additional steel lockers installed, and the basement bath-rooms have been practically rebuilt.

The Wrestling Club, which meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from October to May, while having WRESTLING as its main objects the promotion of CLUB. wrestling and the opportunity for practice of beginners with the more skilled, is not without value as a social organization. Of special value is the instruction received from Mr. Henry V. Rawlings and Mr. Edgar O. Parker.

The Club has been very successful this season in team matches with outside clubs, defeating the Salem Young Men's Christian Association Champions, five contests to one; the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in every one of five contests; and Harvard University, seven contests to two.

Members of the Club have competed in two tournaments, winning five first and one second prize in six classes. Two of the prizes were beautiful silver loving-cups, offered by the mayor of the city in which the tournament was held.

In three years the Club has held the New England heavy-weight championship twice, the 145-pound championship once, and the 135-pound championship once.

"ALL ROUND" EXERCISE.

The Club has a membership of fifteen, among whom are some of the most skilful amateur wrestlers in New England.

The massage treatment remains in care of our expert, Mr. Edwin F. Harding, assisted by Mr. Joseph J. Smith. Their services, by special appointment, are enjoyed by those who recognize the great benefit of this scientific treatment.

The marble hand-ball court has been in constant use the entire year. The exhilarating exercise which the game affords, together with the required skill and the friendly competition, have been of great physical and mental benefit to large numbers of men, both young and old.

Attention is called to the physical examination to which all members of the Gymnasium are entitled, and which all are urged to take. The measurements and tests are in accordance with the civil service rules, and the examinations are under the supervision of the Medical Advisory Board, composed of the following well-known physicians:—

MEDICAL AND PHYSICAL EXAMINATION.

HORACE D. ARNOLD, M.D.
R. A. SADLER, M.D.
E. H. NICHOLS, M.D.

EDWARD O. OTIS, M.D.
RALPH C. LARRABEE, M.D.
MALCOLM SEYMOUR, M.D.

The advice and direction of the Examining Physician, and of the Physical Director who has charge of the measurements, are found to be of special value in correcting physical defects and in developing for special requirements. Re-examination from time to time is of value and interest in showing progress as the result of faithful exercise.

The special report of the Physical Director follows:—

AN EVENING CLASS.

REPORT OF PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.

Classes this season have been held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, in the morning, from 10.30 to 11.10 and from 11.15 to 12.15; in the afternoon, from 3.30 to 4.15 and from 5.15 to 6.15; in the evening, from 6.30 to 7.00 and from 7.50 to 9.20.

The number taking the class work has greatly increased, especially in the morning classes and the 3.30 afternoon class. The 11.15 morning class is devoted almost entirely to Gymnastic Dancing and advanced drills, and has been very largely attended, for our members realize how beneficial and pleasing this form of exercise is. Dancing has also been taught from 4.15 to 5 P.M., in a class made up of older men.

The Boys' Class on Saturday morning is doing well, although the number is still limited, owing to lack of suitable quarters for boys.

Many exhibitions have been given by members from the different classes, and their work has created much interest and enthusiasm in each place visited.

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday are devoted to individual instruction and prescription of exercise, and special classes are held in the evening for Civil Service candidates.

Physical examinations are made on these days, and medical examinations on Mondays. Many members have availed themselves of this privilege, and greatly appreciate the kind and considerate manner with which they have been treated by the members of the Medical Board. The special work by Dr. E. O. Otis in making blood pressure tests has been particularly instructive and valuable.

"CAMP HUBBARD."

My assistant and I wish to express our deep appreciation and sincere thanks to the members of the Gymnasium for the many kindnesses shown us and for their hearty support and ready assistance.

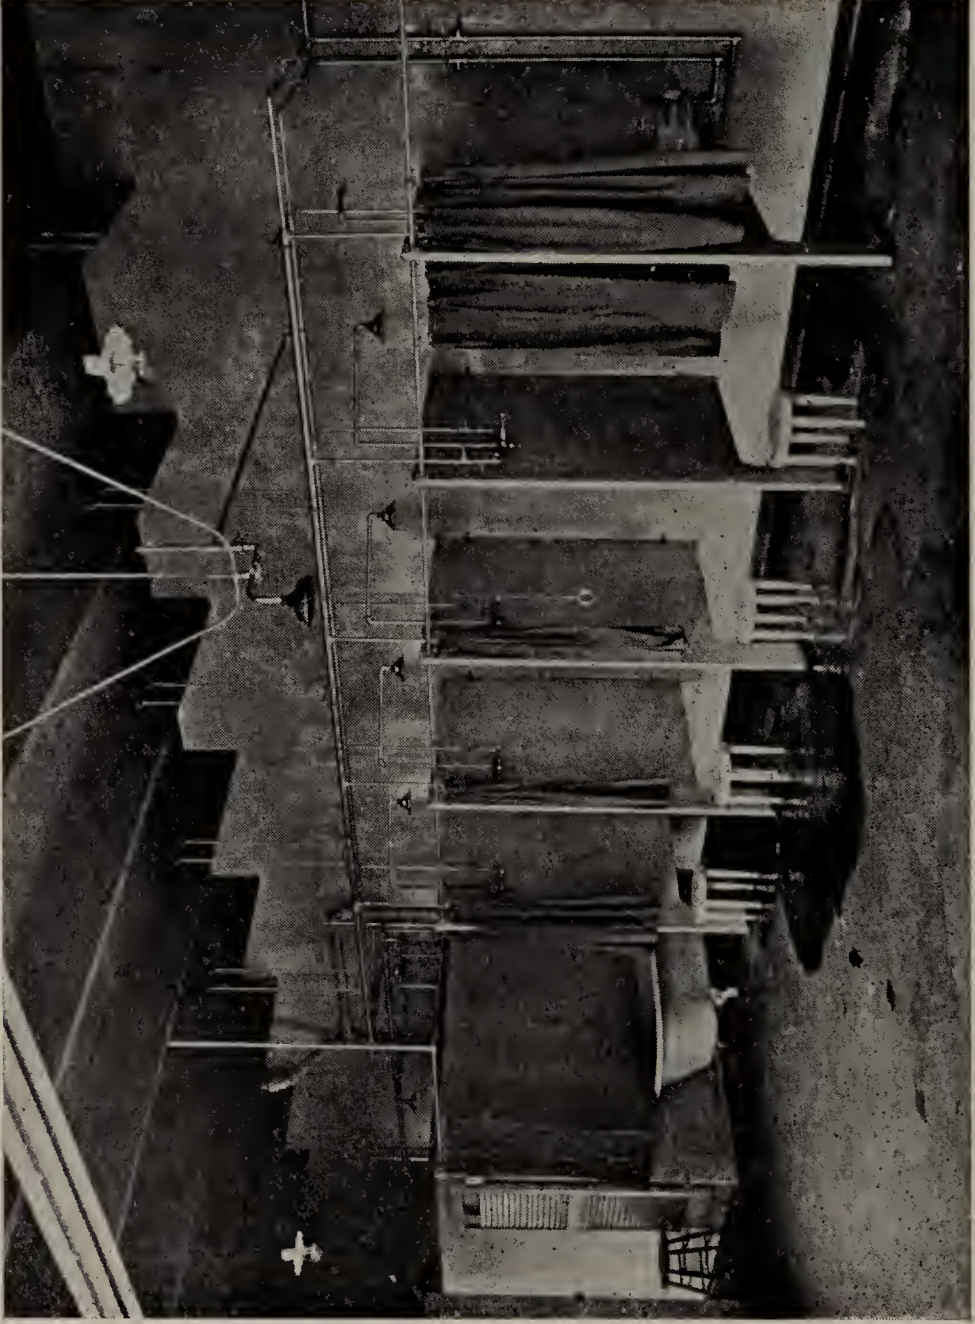

OLIVER L. HEBBERT,

The Union Camping Club, organized in 1910 with seven members, at the close of the past season had a membership of sixteen. The headquarters of the Club is at "Camp Hubbard," Newton Lower Falls. The use of this attractive camp has been contributed by one of our Life Members, Mr. Charles W. Hubbard. About one-half mile down the river is the Riverside Recreation Grounds, where the members of the Union enjoy special rates for tennis, bowling, pool, canoeing, swimming, and other sports. There is also the Club canoe at the camp, available for members at all times.

The past season has been a very progressive one. The Club has been honored by the addition to its membership of Professor O. L. Hebbert and Mr. R. E. Browning, whose co-operation has been of real service. During the early part of the summer the camp building was painted inside, and additional lockers and new bunks built. Several special gatherings have been held at the camp, and two informal dancing parties were given during the winter in Norcross Hall. These gatherings have been a distinct contribution to the Union's social activities.

The Union's Base-ball Team was this year under the immediate direction of the Physical Department. Mr.

CORNER NEW BATH ROOM.

Ross E. Browning served as Captain. Bats, balls, gloves, catcher's outfit, bases, etc., were provided by the Union.

The opening game of the season was played at Franklin Field on May 13, 1911. Games were also played at Bedford, Milton, Weymouth, and Riverside, with teams from business houses, schools, settlement houses, etc.

Of the first eight games (played in May and June), the Union team won six; in July, the team was successful in winning half of the games played, but early in the month, owing to the excessive heat, games were discontinued.

TERMS. Members of the Union by the payment of seven dollars per year are entitled to the use of the Gymnasium at all times when open. Four dollars per year entitle them to its use after six o'clock P.M.

HISTORY.

The Boston Young Men's Christian Union was instituted in 1851, and incorporated under its present name in 1852. Its work was temporarily interrupted by the Civil War, but in April, 1868, a complete reorganization was effected. Rooms were secured at 12 West Street, and 1868. active work resumed. The rooms soon proved too small for the purposes of the Society, and larger ones were taken in the fall at what was then 300 Washington Street, corner of Suffolk Place, where the whole building above the first floor was eventually occupied. These premises also proving inadequate, it became necessary to move again. In the spring of 1874, a suitable lot of land having been found, a public appeal was made for funds with which to purchase the land and erect a new building. By the generosity of friends the necessary amount with which to begin the work was speedily secured.

The present building was completed and dedicated March 15, 1876. By the munificent legacy of eighty 1876. thousand dollars from the late Joseph B. Eaton, a Life Member, supplemented by other generous gifts, the Society was enabled in 1879 (December 10) to hold its building free from all indebtedness. In 1882, on account of constantly growing needs, enlargement of the building was deemed necessary.
1883. Numerous friends promptly responded to an appeal; and an addition to the building was completed, and dedicated May 28, 1883.

A two-story addition to the building, extending through to LaGrange Street, providing bath-rooms, locker-room, hand-ball court, bowling-alleys, and game-room, was opened February 6, 1912.
